

Committee action to hold a bill for further study is procedural in nature. This action is intended to enable the members of the committee to review the verbal and written testimony submitted about the bill during the hearing process.