Please consider H-7015. I got into the electrical field because you needed mandatory training and licensing. I got into the field at 36 years of age. I had worked for my family in the textile field. Ocean State Finishing Co. My parents owned this company for almost 30 years. We all know what happened to the textile industry thanks in part to NAFTA. I vowed to never let this happen to me again. I am 56, I love what I do and I want it protected from people who lack the skills, experience, and knowledge to perform the work safely. I have seen way to much shoddy workmanship when someone asks me to" take a look this for me" mostly residential. In our industry people can die when things are not done correctly. This is not for shock value it is simply a fact.

Respectfully Gary Williams
