RE: H.7280, An Act Relating to Corporations, Associations, and Partnerships – Rhode Island Business Corporation Act

Chairman Solomon and Committee Members:

The undersigned members of the Rhode Island Business Coalition oppose the passage of H.7280, An Act Relating to Corporations, Associations, and Partnerships – Rhode Island Business Corporation Act.

Under current law, the Articles of Incorporation of a corporation can be revoked by the Secretary of State if the corporation fails to pay taxes to the State of Rhode Island. The Division of Taxation is charged with notifying the Secretary of the delinquency.

H.7280 expands the authority by allowing the revocation to occur if a corporation or a limited liability company (LLC) fails to pay “any fees” to the Division of Taxation as well. The bill also gives the Secretary of State the ability to proactively ask the Division of Taxation if a corporation or LLC is compliant or non-compliant and can move forward based on the answer.

As we read this bill, the addition of the words “any fees” seems to suggest, in the broadest interpretation, “any fees” owed to the State of Rhode Island. This could mean license fees, audit fees, minimum corporate tax, application fees, or other industry specific fees levied by the State. A corporation or LLC could find its charter revoked for failing to pay a fifty-dollar fee. Once that charter is revoked, it may be re-instated upon payment of monies owed and payment of an additional penalty for each year or part of a year that the charter was elapsed. H.7280 casts a very wide net with a very heavy hammer.

For these reasons, we oppose this bill as written.
