Dear Members of the House Education Committee,

I am writing to express my support for House Bill 7895, the “Safe Schools Technology Act,” which is being heard today, April 2.

As a parent, I am increasingly concerned about the amount of screen time children are exposed to during the school day and the limited visibility caregivers have into that usage. I strongly support the bill’s requirement that schools enable screen time settings so families can better understand and monitor how devices are being used in the classroom.

I also appreciate that this legislation prioritizes parental choice by allowing caregivers to opt out of school-issued devices, devices being sent home, and online standardized testing. Families should have a voice in how and when their children engage with technology.

Additionally, the bill’s effort to establish more rigorous standards for approving digital curriculum is an important step toward ensuring that educational technology is used thoughtfully, effectively, and in ways that truly benefit students.

This is a practical and balanced approach to integrating technology in schools while respecting the needs and concerns of families. I urge you to support House Bill 7895.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Jessica Becker
