To Whom it May Concern;

Our family has been homeschooling for 9 years (this coming Fall will be our 10th). We have graduated a daughter who attends Ohio University , a son who will graduate next May, and a son entering the 6th grade.

We have been so blessed by this choice . Our teenage son is on the autism spectrum , and has ADHD and anxiety. Our ten year old son has recently been diagnosed with ADHD and anxiety as well. We have been able to tailor their schooling to their needs and interests . We are able to proceed at a pace that works best for them . Sometimes that is a slower pace (for our younger son), and sometimes (for our older son) a more rigorous pace .

Our older son has plans to dual enroll at CCRI next year , complete his BA , then attend law school (hopefully Roger Williams).

Our ten year old already has big plans of his own (as of this moment); to utilize our nearest vo-tech high school and become a carpenter .

The choice to homeschool and the freedoms that come along with it are priceless to our family. We are strongly rooted in our faith and that plays a huge part in the curriculum we choose. The freedom to choose where we learn , when we learn , how we learn, and what resources we use to learn is invaluable to our family .

We strongly and respectfully oppose the new bill that may infringe upon these freedoms that we so love and cherish.

Respectfully and Sincerely ,

Gregg , Jessica, Luke, and Van Pennington
