Re: H.8190, An Act Relating to Taxation – Estate and Transfer Taxes – Liability and Computation

Dear Chairman Abney,

The undersigned members of the Rhode Island Business Coalition would like to express our support for House Bill 8190, An Act Relating to Taxation – Estate and Transfer Taxes – Liability and Computation and thank Representative Phillips for introducing this legislation.

H.8190 increases the estate tax threshold from the current level of $1,802,431 to $5,000,000 for deaths that occur on or after January 1, 2027. The bill then gradually increases the exemption until the estate tax is phased-out completely for deaths that occur on or after January 1, 2033. By moving to the initial exemption, Rhode Island would have a higher exemption than Massachusetts ($2 million) but still lower than Connecticut ($13.61 million).

It is important to note that Rhode Island is one of only twelve states with assess a tax on assets passed onto family upon someone's death. The federal exemption is currently $15 million. According to the Tax Foundation's 2024 report, Rhode Island has the second lowest estate tax threshold in the country.<sup>1</sup>

Financial planners tell clients every day not to die in Rhode Island based on the estate and transfer tax. We believe it would be more advantageous to encourage older individuals to keep their residency in Rhode Island, spend their discretionary income here for more than 5.9 months a year, and allow their heirs to transfer assets without burdensome taxes after their loved ones have passed.
