To Whom It May Concern,

I propose that all medical and aesthetic professionals in Rhode Island be empowered to work and delegate to the full extent of their scope of practice, ensuring they can provide the highest level of care to their patients. The rapidly evolving healthcare landscape and growing demand for specialized services require that professionals be allowed the autonomy and flexibility to make the best clinical decisions. This will not only improve patient outcomes but will also foster a more efficient and responsive healthcare system. By allowing full utilization of each professional's expertise, we can ensure that services are delivered promptly and effectively, meeting the needs of a diverse patient population.

This approach would specifically benefit areas like aesthetic treatments, where Registered Nurses (RNs) and Nurse Practitioners (NPs) play a pivotal role in delivering care. These professionals undergo extensive training and possess the expertise to provide quality care that meets or exceeds patient expectations. I believe that their scope of practice should be maximized, allowing them to offer a wider range of services and delegate tasks within their qualifications. By enabling these professionals to work to their full potential, we can create a more dynamic, patient-centered environment that ultimately results in greater satisfaction and better results.

It is particularly important to me that my current RN and NP continue to treat me without restriction. They have been essential to my care, consistently demonstrating expertise, compassion, and a deep understanding of my individual health needs. Having the continuity of care with these trusted professionals is crucial to my well-being. Their ability to practice to the full extent of their training ensures that I receive the most comprehensive and personalized treatment. I am confident that supporting the professional autonomy of medical and aesthetic practitioners in Rhode Island will benefit not only my care but also the care of many others in the community.

With Appreciation,

Kristi Provuncher
