Dear Members of the House Judiciary Committee,

I am writing to urge you to oppose House Bill H8071, which would require a background check for every ammunition purchase in Rhode Island, including reloading components such as primers, powder, and bullets.

This bill treats law-abiding gun owners as suspects every time they buy ammunition. It creates a costly, time-consuming bureaucratic hurdle for routine purchases with no evidence it will reduce crime. Criminals who are already prohibited from possessing firearms will simply acquire ammunition through other means.

I urge you to vote against HH8071.

Respectfully,

Dear Members of the House Judiciary Committee,

I am writing to respectfully urge you to oppose House Bill H8071, which would require a background check for every ammunition purchase in Rhode Island, including reloading components such as primers, powder, and bullets.

This proposal would impose a recurring administrative burden on law-abiding citizens for routine purchases, without clear evidence that it would meaningfully reduce criminal activity. Individuals already prohibited from possessing firearms are unlikely to comply with such requirements and may continue to obtain ammunition through other channels, including from out of state.

In the spirit of constructive compromise, if the goal is to enhance public safety, I encourage consideration of policies that do not restrict lawful possession or effectively force individuals to relinquish their rights through indirect means, such as prohibitively expensive requirements. Approaches that focus on preventing unlawful access and misuse, rather than adding broad burdens on those who follow the law, may offer a more practical and balanced path forward.

Given these concerns, I respectfully ask that you vote against House Bill H8071.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Dear Members of the House Judiciary Committee,

I am writing to urge you to oppose House Bill H8071, which would require a background check for every ammunition purchase in Rhode Island, including reloading components such as primers, powder, and bullets.

This bill treats law-abiding gun owners as suspects every time they buy ammunition. It creates a costly, time-consuming bureaucratic hurdle for routine purchases with no evidence it will reduce crime. Criminals who are already prohibited from possessing firearms will simply acquire ammunition through other means.

I urge you to vote against HH8071.

Respectfully,

Respectfully,

Derick Finch
