Dear Members of the House Judiciary Committee,

I urge you to oppose House Bill H8081, which would allow carry permit authorities to access expunged criminal records when evaluating permit applications.

Expungement exists for a reason: the legislature decided that certain past offenses should not define a person forever. H8081 carves out a special exception for gun owners, meaning a conviction that was legally cleared can still be used to deny a carry permit. This undermines the entire purpose of expungement and punishes people twice for offenses they have already satisfied.

I urge you to vote against H8081.

Respectfully,
