Hello,

I am writing today to request your support of H7760.

The right to decide on and consent to your own death is just as crucial as any other medical decision. There are many people who suffer from terminal illnesses who are entitled to this right.

When pets or animals are suffering from terminal illnesses, be it from organ failure, leukemia or cancer, we do not prolong their suffering. It is only right that we don't prolong the suffering of people either.

I appreciate you taking the time to look into this matter.

Best,

Josh Ballesteros
