Hi,

My name is Marsha Miller, I live on the eastside of Providence in District 4.

I am a retired family physician. Having treated many human beings who are terminally ill, medical aid in dying is a humane and compassionate part of caring for each other. To allow people agency at this part of their life and relief from unbearable suffering is something that should be available for citizens of RI. The majority of us will not need or want this, but for those unfortunate to develop debilitating terrifying diseases for which we have little to offer besides morphine and our pity, it is medical care that we should be able to access in our home state.

Sincerely,
Marsha Miller, MD
