I urge the senate to support RI S2795

Restricting anti-coagulant rodenticides and providing municipalities with the opportunity to deploy a science-based, multifaceted approach to pest control will have benefits that span much wider than just our raptors. Other bird species, mammals, and even our own pet cats and dogs can ingest these poisons, directly or indirectly.

Prohibiting the sale and use of these rodenticides is a step in the right direction to protect our wildlife and ecosystem balance.

Best,

Richa
