You don't often get email from gerritt@mindspring.com. Learn why this is important

Members of the Senate Finance Committee, The Governor and the OER are asking that we roll back our work to stop climate change by extending out our efforts to reduce carbon emissions. This is as serious mistake. Recent reports have suggested that we are approaching climate tipping points faster than ever and that the rate of temperature increase has increased. I offer up this video from Just have a Think with much of this new information in digestible form and I hope you take it to heart.
