

Testimony for Senate Finance Hearing on HB #7127 for Feb 10, 2026

My name is Jessie Kingston. I'm retired and live in Providence.

If one hasn't been interested in, supportive of and continuously learning about all the encouraging ,ever evolving technology and techniques to ameliorate the negative effects of climate change, there's no time like the present. We already have the technology and know how to use it! The longer we wait, the worse the negative health and environmental effects will be and the more expensive—-exponentially expensive!

I'm interested in a healthier environment for the earth that sustains us and for the generations of my family and others' families who will outlive us all. I know I am not alone in this.

For the particular issues at hand today, as I have done over the past several years, I rely on clear, data supported information from the experts like Emily Koo at The Acadia Center and Tina Munter at Green Energy Consumers Alliance. .

Therefore, I refer you to The Acadia Center's press release of February 5, 2026  and trust you will give it your fullest attention as well as any additional testimony, written or oral, given by the Acadia Center's representatives or those of Green Energy Consumers Alliance.

Thank you for considering my testimony.
