Dear Chair LaMountain and distinguished members of the Senate Judiciary Committee,

I am Lisa Cadan, a committed resident of Bristol, and I am writing to you today to express my profound and unwavering support for Senate Bill S3143, the Rhode Island Voting Rights Act. My dedication to the well-being of our neighbors, the vitality of our communities, and the fundamental principles of our democracy compels me to advocate for this critical legislation.

A robust and representative democracy is the cornerstone of a thriving society, and its strength is directly proportional to the ease and confidence with which its citizens can participate. This bill is not merely a legal formality; it is an essential safeguard for the democratic ideals we all cherish. It ensures that every eligible Rhode Islander possesses the unfettered opportunity to cast their ballot, free from unnecessary obstacles, and with full confidence in the integrity and fairness of the process.

The Rhode Island Voting Rights Act has the power to deepen civic engagement across our state by removing potential barriers and promoting transparency. When individuals feel empowered and assured that their voice will be heard and their vote will count, it strengthens trust in our institutions and encourages broader participation in the decisions that shape our collective future. This legislation is a proactive step towards building a more inclusive and equitable electoral system that truly reflects the diversity and will of all Rhode Islanders.

I implore this esteemed committee to recognize the monumental importance of S3143. Its passage would send a powerful message that Rhode Island is committed to upholding and expanding democratic access for all its citizens. I respectfully urge you to champion this vital bill and ensure it advances through the legislative process without delay.

Thank you for your invaluable service to our state and for your thoughtful consideration of this critically important matter.

Sincerely,

Lisa Cadan
Bristol, Rhode Island
