Re: House Bill S2010

To Whom it May Concern,

The bill regarding the use of Artificial Intelligence to make decisions about the approval or denial of health insurance claims is deeply concerning. The use of AI in this process will lead to the denial of essential healthcare to thousands upon thousands of people who are trapped in a system in which it is already too difficult and expensive to have claims approved.. This will only serve to benefit the bottom line of the already highly profitable health insurance mega giants.

Additionally, many companies will make use of private health data and data purchase from data brokers to train the AI in it's decision making process, in violation of the health privacy laws that many Rhode Islanders would like to continue to enjoy, considering that privacy is a human right.

We are against this bill

Sincerely yours,
